

Killa Statement on Exposing NKJ Sex Cult UK

Sikh unit was a gang, not an organisation or anything like that. We just did street justice against enemies of the Sikhs end off. The name Singhorw was just a tactic to get us into universities to slip the gang label which was known to the UK police and they would have never allowed us to do talks due to gang affiliation. We were active and done loads of streets justice (blood on pavements). in 2010 we shut everything down due to personal reasons, and mainly we were just too worn out due to the constant wars and headaches, yes, we are pussies in that sense as Baba Deep Singh ji and old Singhs didn't give up until last breath no matter how old they were. But their Jeevan (lifestyles) were better than most if not all modern day singhs, so they had extra energy and blessings. We totally had nothing to do with Sikhi scene and went back to totally normal life, all weapons were laid down and I was even back to dancing (you may have seen the videos lol) etc But when we was active we dealt with many Sikh groomers and pedos etc, if you know then you know in it mans didn't get way with shit when we were active. When this case came to me, I said to victim like it's been 5 years since we shut down bro mans are not on it like that, best you go to different org or police. I put the phone down and just got on with my life, after a few days my conscience didn't let me rest. I phoned him back and I said look right now it's just your word against nkj lot, try and do a phone call or something were you talk about incident, so you can take to the police or other Sikh orgs. That's what we did, the calls were done in front of me and a few other Singh's. As I was suffering physical health problems and I only knew street justice and don't do meetings or ask for help from police or anyone else other than my weapons, the guru and my comrades) other singhs took the tapes etc to Sikhs orgs and it was in their hands from then (as that way aint my world or method), that is the most I could do at that time, if it was 8 years back maybe could have helped in different ways (blood would have been split on the pavements trust). But I warned the Singhs that the Sikh orgs have no balls and there is no sikh governing body or authority that's is on it and can give the support you need, as it's all a shamble and its every committee and organisation for themselves. We were only successful because we were a gang that got street justice and looked up to no other sikh orgs or Sikhs, just our weapons and Gurbani. NKj lot found out I was behind call recording and they tried to shut me up, making threats to kill me and my kids if I don't get rid of recordings and said for me to hand over all copies. The person they went to get a gun from, knew me and gave me heads up (he didn't give them the gun), that they tryna shoot up your yard. I told them I may not be active and have laid down my weapons for the panth and humanity, but I will still stab mans if it came to my family and kids. Once they found out that I would still kill to protect my kids like most people would they backed off or they just couldn't get a gun I don't know but I never heard anything after the few initial threats. Meetings took place and the singhs that took the case on done their best to deal with the situation to resolve the matter anyway they could, they cooperated with police and tried their best that way. Sikh sound engineers contacted them, they gave them the audio and all of them confirmed it was real and started telling the sangat that they have tested it so any doubts about recording should be dispelled (unfortunately scared of the back lash not even one of them wanted to come forward and write a statement). NKJ then they said I'm RSS (anti Sikh org) and tyna get rid of sikhi parchaar (Sikh preaching) lol man we been doing parchaar before they were lol he is saying people are throwing all these allegations to stop parchaar (yeah right) nah people are exposing you to stop you from grooming kids with your twisted parchaar. I didn't even know of this nkj, until the victim came to me. As I was listening to the calls unfold in front of me, I was like what the fuck this is a cult, and most be grooming may more people, but I weren't shocked as I had become numb to the amount of sexual abuse with our community. Unfortunately, the police and cps said not enough there to prosecute, they said the recordings are real. But they said the recording just shows a warped version of Sikhism but that is not criminal offence, so they dropped the case.

NKJ said the tapes were edited and the Sikh orgs believed him and swept it under the carpet and it is NKJ shows and money in their bank as normal. Sikhs are naïve and will believe a Sikh wearing nice white clothes who talks the talk, instead of a track suit wearing, swearing, street guy (our community is very narrow minded). But you know I did what I could when the situation came to me, that's all I was capable of at the time, and I have no faith in Sikh orgs or community. But all I can say is I have exposed him, some will believe some wont, but our conscience is clear, the Guru knows the truth and it's only a matter of time before the Guru reacts somehow to protect the person who is in the right. I don't care what people say or what people think of me, as only God can judge me, I'm far from perfect, but I aint no groomer or sexual abuser Guru kirpa. Right now my hand is on a gootka, and I swear down the recordings are real and that they tried to shut me up by saying they would kill me and my babies at the time (who were 1 and a half and 6 months), but you can't strike fear in me I've seen too much in my life to fear other humans. All I know is when I went back to normal life and laid down my weapons, I stopped doing talks, and making raps etc because I was no longer living that high level of sikhi which was needed to be on that platform, but when I was doing parchaar, I lived what I spoke about. But after seeing the amount of sexual abuse within our community I went into deep depression and I just couldn't cope with it anymore I shut everything down and got married to a moni and started dancing and kind of adapting to normal society again. weak minded you could say but it is what it is and that's the way it played out. It doesn't shock me that Sikhs don't believe the tapes ae real, or that the orgs have no back bone and swept it under carpet. NKJ is one of many trust that's how much I know. My kids will be taught Sikhi at home away from all this fake shit going on, not many real heads left. Even when I was inactive (no longer in Khalsa Army) I still put my kid's life on the line for the panth. Signing out killa, a sinful but real, honest dog and x soldier of the panth.
